

MOVING COMPANY, MOVING TRUCK OR DIY:

What's Best for Your Move?

This exercise is designed to help you weigh the pros and cons of your moving options and choose the one that's right for your moving timeline, budget and preference.

On each question, select one of the three statements that feels most applicable to your situation. Once you make your selections, they will total at the bottom of the worksheet for each category: moving company, moving truck or DIY. The category with the highest score is our recommended moving option based on your responses.

What option does your budget allow?

- I have room in my budget for a moving company.
- I have room in my budget for a moving truck.
- I would rather save money and move myself.

How would you prefer that your belongings are transported from point A to point B?

- I prefer that someone else transports my belongings in their vehicle.
- I can move my own belongings, but would need a bigger vehicle.
- I already have the appropriate transportation to move my things.

How would you prefer your belongings are loaded and unloaded?

- I'd rather movers handle all of the heavy lifting for me.
- I can physically handle moving everything myself if I have the proper transportation.
- I can physically handle moving everything myself, and/or I can get friends and family to help.

How much time do you have for your move?

- I don't have time to move everything myself.
- I can set aside time to load, transport and unload all of my belongings using a rental vehicle.
- I am able to load, transport and unload all of my belongings, to potentially make multiple trips depending on the size of my vehicle.

How much flexibility do you need in scheduling your move?

- I'm comfortable with scheduling my move to meet the moving company's schedule.
- I'd prefer to rent a moving truck and choose the rental period that fits my schedule.
- I would like to use my own vehicle so I can move on my own time.

Do you need movers insurance?

- I would like to purchase moving insurance through a moving company.
- I can purchase insurance coverage for a moving truck.
- I can purchase my own moving insurance/my move is insured under my homeowners' insurance.

How do you feel about the moving process?

- The thought of moving feels stressful.
- The thought of moving feels manageable, with some help.
- The thought of moving feels manageable.

What's Best for Your Move?

MOVING COMPANY _____

MOVING TRUCK _____

DIY _____